DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 2. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
- 3. Claim 4 contains the phrase "stepwise great lengths" in the third line. This phrase appears to be grammatically incorrect. Furthermore it is unclear as to what is actually being described. The examiner believes that the intended limitation was directed towards a wiring layer with branches that have increasing lengths and are shaped like steps. The claim was thus interpreted in this manner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35
U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2826

- 5. Claims 1-5, 7-10, 15, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Murakami (USPN 6,320,262 B1).
- 6. In reference to claims 1, 2, 3, 5, 15, and 16, Murakami (USPN 6,320,262 B1) discloses a similar device. Figures 3 and 4 of Murakami disclose a semiconductor device with a wiring configuration. The wiring configuration has a first wiring layer (14) connected to a second wiring layer (15) with a plurality of via plugs (3a). The plurality of via plugs (3a) are formed in an insulating layer (3) which is placed between the first wiring layer (14) and the second wiring layer (15). The first wiring layer (22) and the second wiring layer (21) are both made of aluminum and have the same specific resistances. It is understood that there is a different parasitic resistance for at least two or a plurality of the via plugs since the lengths between the via plugs (3a) and the end (2a) of the first wiring layer are different. As for the limitation regarding the use of the wiring structure as an evaluation pattern, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Thus claims 1 and 2 (which contain this limitation) are not patentable over the Murakami reference.

Art Unit: 2826

7. So far as understood in claim 4, the first wiring layer (22) has at least three branches where two branches are greater in length than a third shorter branch.

These two longer branches are shaped like a step.

- 8. With regard to claim 7, the via plugs (3a) are evenly spaced.
- 9. In reference to claim 8, the via plugs (3a) have the same shape.
- 10. With regard to claim 9, the via plugs (3a) are evenly spaced at regular intervals in line.
- 11. In reference to claim 10, the via plugs (3a) have the same shape.

Allowable Subject Matter

- 12. Claims 11-14 are allowed.
- 13. Claim 6 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
- 14. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the examiner is unaware of any prior art which teaches the exact wiring test method as suggested by the applicant which uses the specific test wiring structure that has two wiring layers wherein a first wiring layer has several branches connected to a second wiring layer with each branch having a different length.
